Try these meatless meals to help balance the budget.

DUTCH SUCCOTASH

2 tablespoons butter
3 medium onions
2 green peppers
1 1/2 cups diced potatoes
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 cup kernel corn
2 cups canned limas

Melt the butter in a heavy saucepan and add the onion and peppers, chopped fine. Cook over low heat five minutes. Then add potatoes, brown sugar, tomatoes, salt and pepper, and simmer for one hour. Then add corn and lima beans and simmer for 30 minutes longer. In season, fresh corn and lima beans may be used, adding them with potatoes and tomatoes. Yield: Six portions.

POTATO-RIFLE SOUP

Peel and dice as many potatoes as you need for your family, cooking them in water and salt to taste. While the potatoes are cooking, make the raffle. Into a bowl place a cup of flour and a little salt, and add one to two egg yolks, depending upon the amount of soup you are making. Stir until the eggs and flour form little raffles. When the potatoes are done, add butter and pepper and the raffles. Stir constantly so that raffles will not stick together. Let the soup simmer and then before serving add a cup or two of whole milk. This soup is good with crackers or finger strips of bread and butter. Apple salad blends well with this dish, as do celery and carrot sticks.

MUSHROOM SCRAMBLED EGGS

4 eggs
1/2 cup cream of mushroom soup
1/4 cup warm water
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Stir soup well and then add warm water. Beat the eggs and add soup and seasonings. Scramble in butter. Serves 4.

FRIED OYSTERS

Take one pint of large oysters and drain well in colander. Salt and pepper to taste. Beat two eggs and dip oysters singly in egg. Then put oysters in cracker crumbs, patting each one until well covered. Fry in deep hot lard or butter until well browned.

TUNA CASSEROLE

1 small package potato chips
1 can tuna
1 can mushroom soup
Crumble one-half of potato chips and add the flaked tuna and the mushroom soup. Top with remaining potato chips. Heat in 350-degree oven and serve hot.

Incidents That Failed

Die-hard Negrophobes, with abortive plots to upset Robinson in some sectors of the country, lived to see their un-American practices fail utterly. Take for example the case of Joe Garagiola, St. Louis Cards, who in the September pennant drive spiked Jackie and Robinson's teammate, Ed Stanky. Had it not been for the prompt sizing up of an explosive situation by Umpire "Beans" Reardon that nite in St. Louis, Jackie might have wiped up the diamond with the nasty young backstop and thus touched off a sizable rumble.

But such is the road that nations and individuals are treading today as we journey into the New Year. Just as Christ was crowded out of the inn that eventful night, so is He crowded out of the inn of the life of men and nations. How long shall we thus spurn the only hope for world peace and human happiness? What difference does it make when we carry into the New Year the same old sinful heart?

Just as freedom is only for the free and power for the powerful, so with living; life begins at forty for those who have something to live for and in and by. For the empty, it is a void. For the stupid, it is a stupidity. For the weak, it is a conscious death. But for the vigorous and the vivid, it is the end of an overture and the beginning of still greater music.—"Life Begins at Forty" by Walter B. Pitkin (World Publishing Company 1941).
